

Engaging with our stakeholders

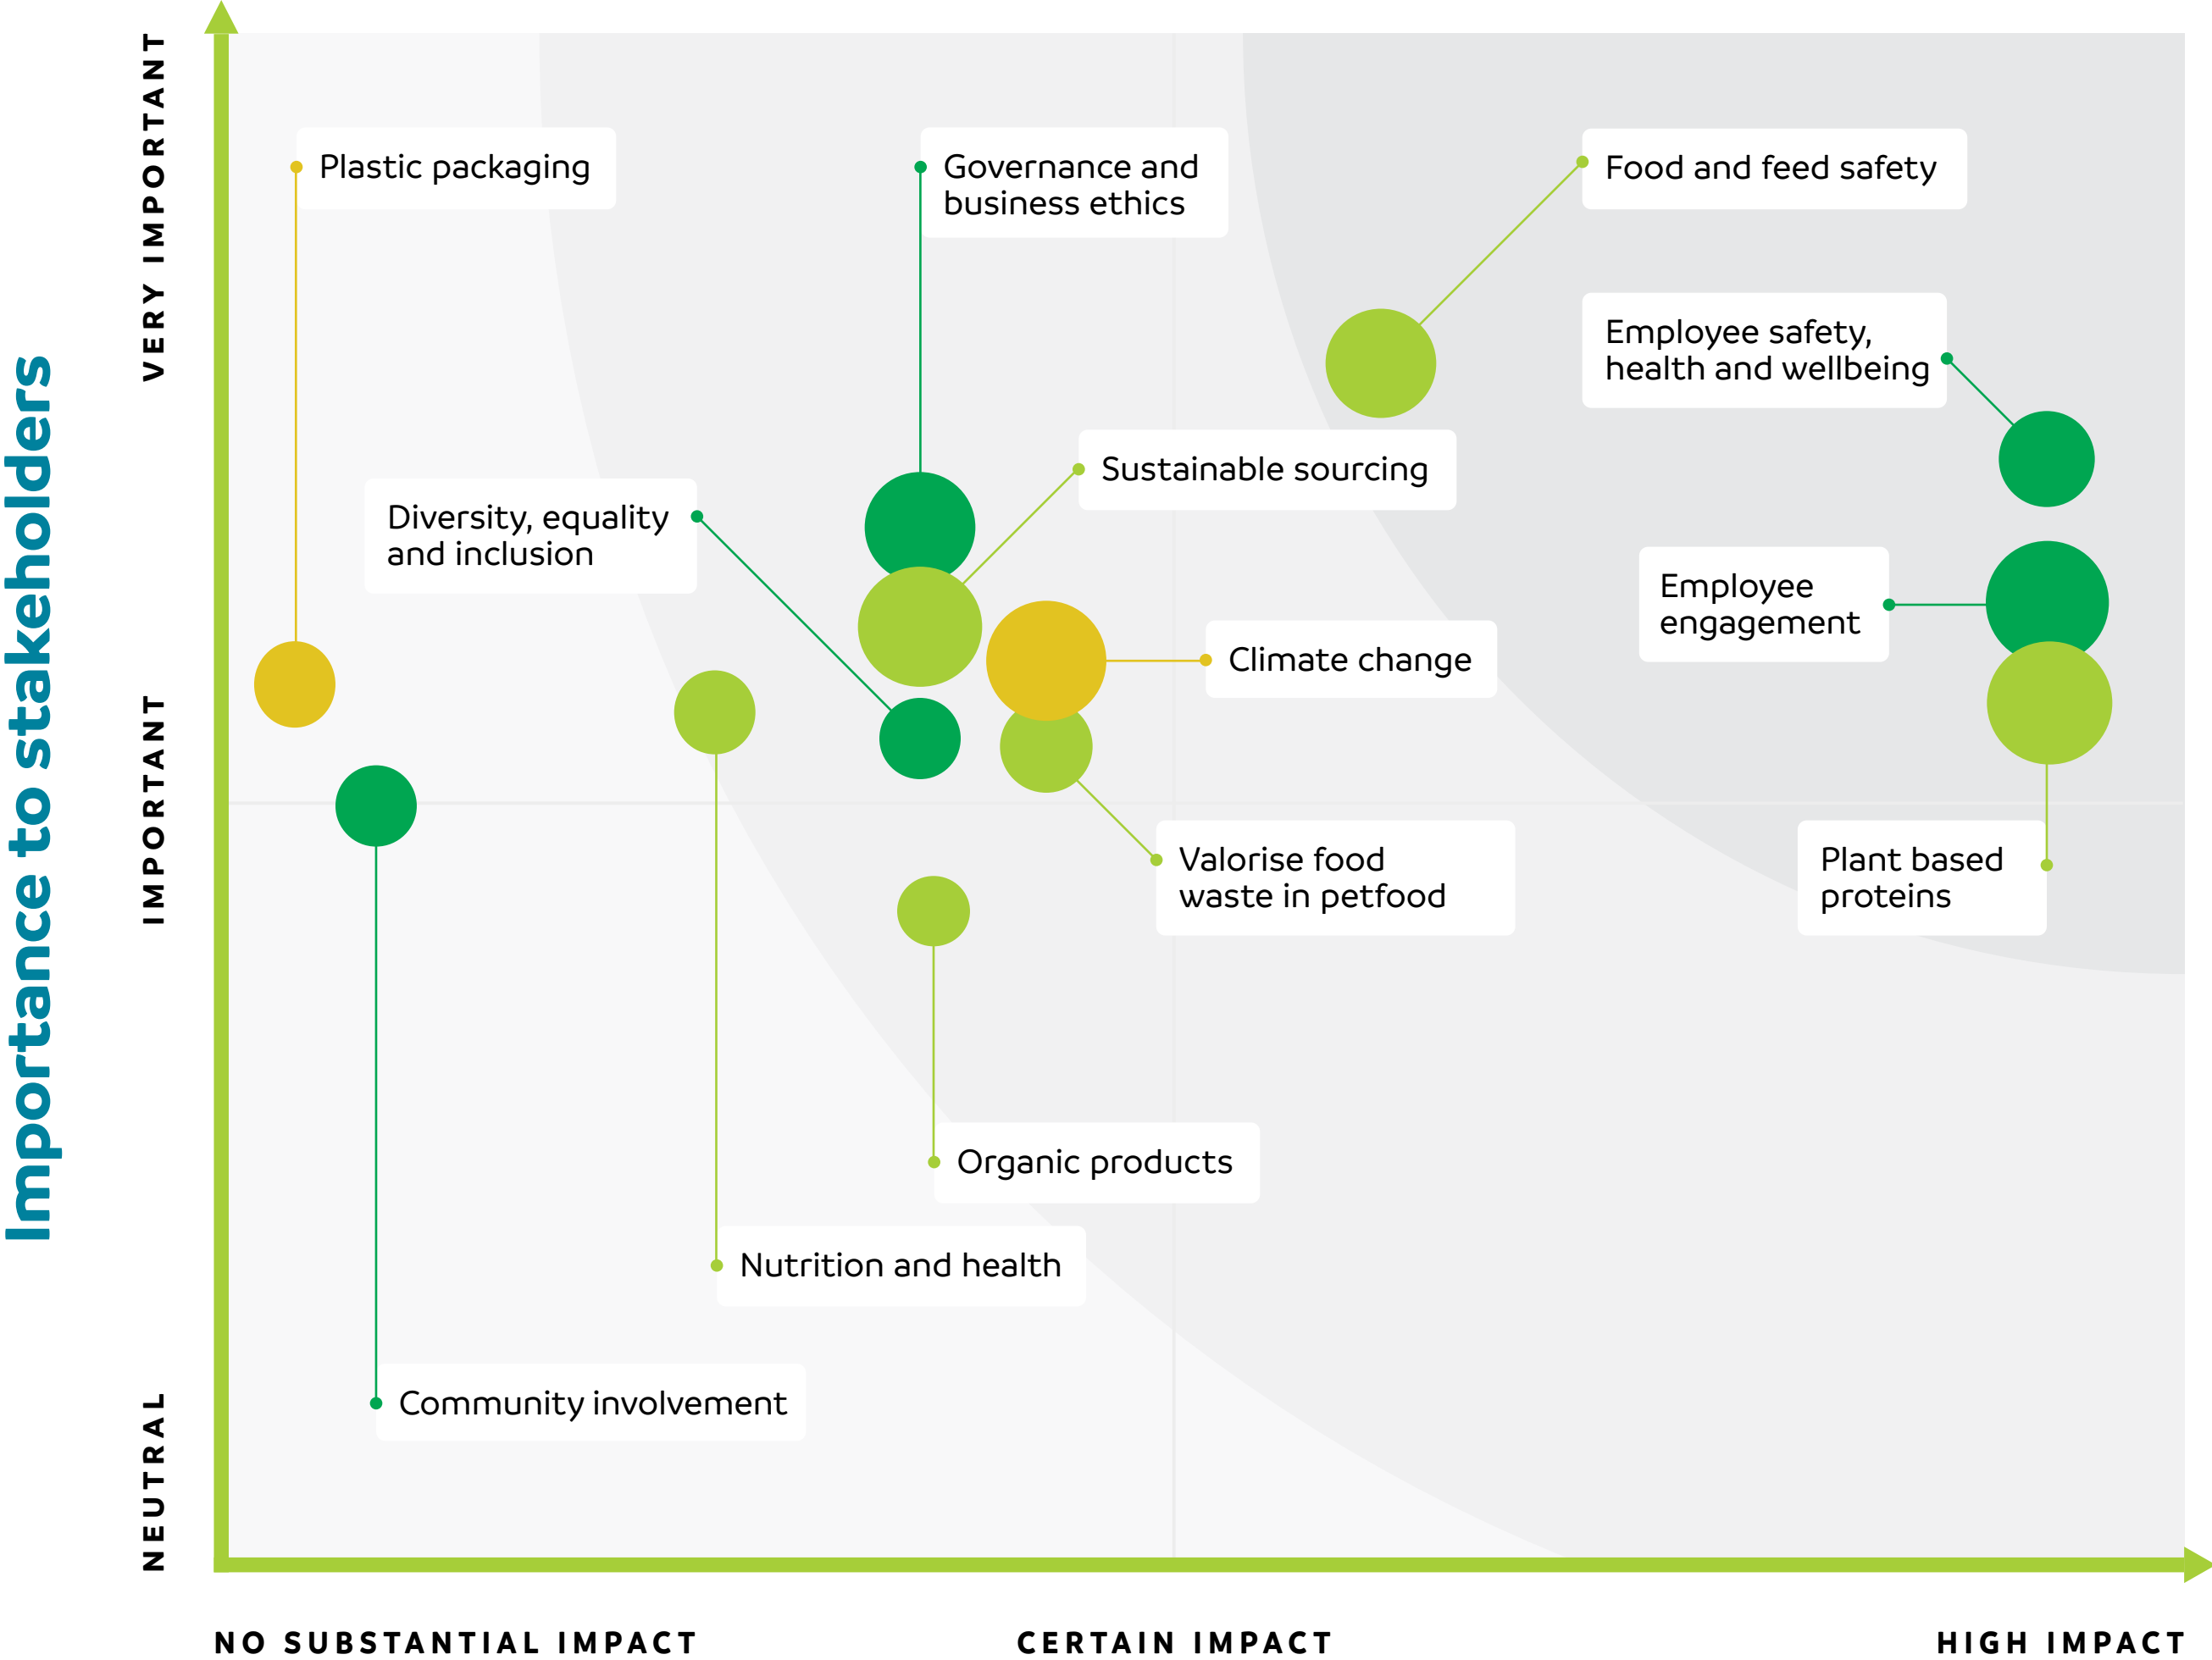

Meelunie's Double Materiality Matrix

We encourage open communication and collaboration with others, both within and outside our value chain.

Embracing diverse perspectives is crucial, as it drives us to continuously make improvements, reinforces our commitment to transition, and fosters collaboration. Partnerships help us progress towards our sustainability ambitions faster than we could have done alone, and have a Positive Impact beyond our own value chain. We've assimilated these diverse inputs into our materiality matrix, which serves as the guidance for our Positive Impact strategy.

“The materiality analysis, along with feedback from our value chain partners, helps us continuously improve and fine tune the alignment between our commercial ambitions and our Positive Impact.”
